It also notes: "This exam is intended for you if you have both technical and non-technical backgrounds. Data science and software engineering experience are not required. However, you would benefit from having awareness of: • Basic cloud concepts • Client-server applications". Further down, it says: "You can use Azure AI Fundamentals to prepare for other Azure role-based certifications like Azure Data Scientist Associate or Azure AI Engineer Associate, but it's not a prerequisite for any of them." Finally, it mentions: "You may be eligible for ACE college credit if you pass this certification exam. See ACE college credit for certification exams for details."

If you have selected the exam mode as Online with OnVUE - please follow the steps below

- a. You need to use a personal computer that has a reliable webcam and internet connection. Please ensure that your system passes the system test by using the link provided here and also go through the technical requirements here.
- b. Ensure that the place where you are taking the test is a distraction-free, private place. You can refer to this page for tips to take up the online exam. Also please do go through the document - here.
- c. Select your preferred language for the exam, from the list of languages provided, and select Next

Technical requirements	Testing space requirements	ID requirements
------------------------	----------------------------	-----------------

Testing space requirements:

The place where you'll take your exam is one of your most crucial decisions. See below for general information or visit the online testing guide for more specifics.

General:

- Choose an enclosed, private space. An ideal testing space will allow you to close all doors to avoid interruptions, since no one else may enter or even pass through your space once you've started your exam.
- Make sure it's well-lit, but be aware that too much background light (natural or electric) could create visibility issues for your proctor.
- Avoid testing near windows or glass partitions to prevent others from viewing your screen.
- Be prepared to take photos of your testing space during check-in.

Monitor and webcam:

- You may only use one monitor during your exam. If using an external monitor, your laptop lid must be closed. The use of touchscreen technology is prohibited.
- Position your monitor to face you directly and stay within the webcam's view throughout your exam. No one else may appear through the webcam during the exam and no one else's voice should be heard.

Desk/workspace:

- Clear your desk/workspace of all personal and preparatory items, except for those allowed by your exam program.
- Keep your mobile phone in the room where you're testing, but out of arm's reach.

Technical requirements	Testing space requirements	ID requirements
------------------------	----------------------------	-----------------

ID requirements:

Before testing online, you'll need to provide identification (ID) that meets the following requirements, along with any program-specific ID policies, which can be found on your exam program's online testing page.

- All IDs must be valid government-issued originals (i.e., not a photocopy)
- IDs must include the test-taker's name and a recent, recognizable photo
- The first and last name on the ID must match the first and last name used to register for the exam
- For test-takers under 18 years of age, a parent or guardian must present their own ID during check-in and give consent for the test-taker to be recorded. If they have one, the test-taker must also present a government-issued ID. If they do not, a student ID will suffice.
- Acceptable forms of ID:
 - International travel passport
 - Driver's license
 - Identification card (national, state or province ID card)
 - Alien registration card (green card or permanent resident/visa)
- Unacceptable IDs:
 - Restricted IDs*, including the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) Common Access Card (CAC) or certain secure access IDs
 - IDs from countries where OnVUE delivery is restricted: North Korea, Cuba, Syria, Sudan, Iran and the Sevastopol/Crimea region of Ukraine.

Further, you understand, acknowledge and agree that if your testing session is terminated for this or any other reason you will not receive a test fee refund, credit or voucher.

You acknowledge that Pearson VUE is granting you a limited license to access and make personal use of its Online Proctored Application (OnVUE) only for the duration of your testing session. Further you acknowledge that OnVUE may not be reproduced, duplicated, copied, take a picture of, downloaded (other than page caching), sold, resold, visited, or otherwise exploited for any commercial purpose without the express written consent of Pearson VUE.
